

Ten Use Cases for Synchronous Audiographic Conferencing

Tim Neumann
Learning Technologies Unit
Institute of Education

Leading education
and social research
Institute of Education
University of London

Live Conferencing

- Virtual Classrooms /
Synchronous Audiographic Conferencing

Combination of:
real-time tools
for visual interaction
while talking

NOT 'video' conferencing!

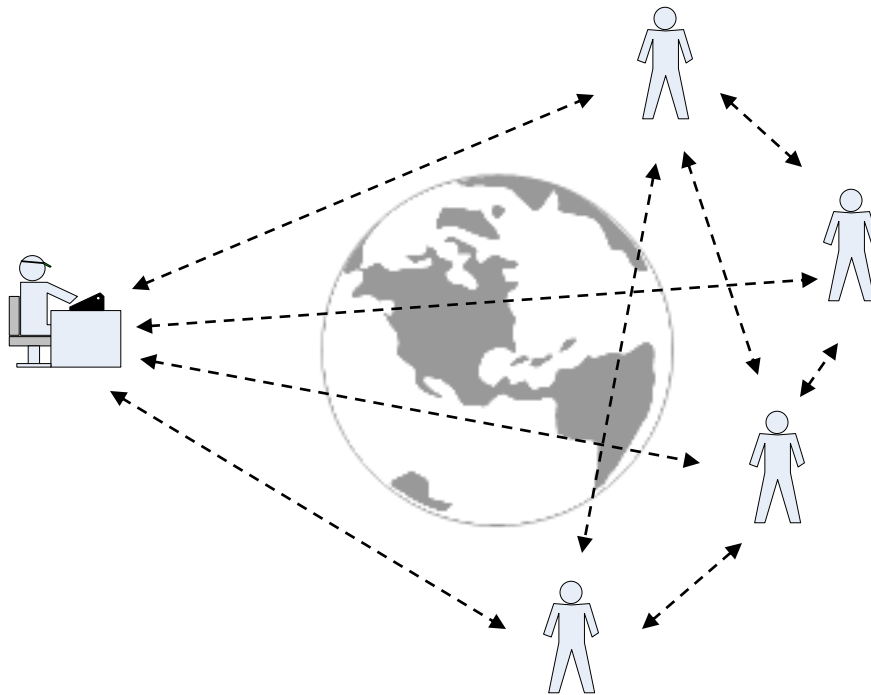

Leading education
and social research
Institute of Education
University of London

Use Cases

Ten Application Scenarios for Synchronous Audiographic Conferencing

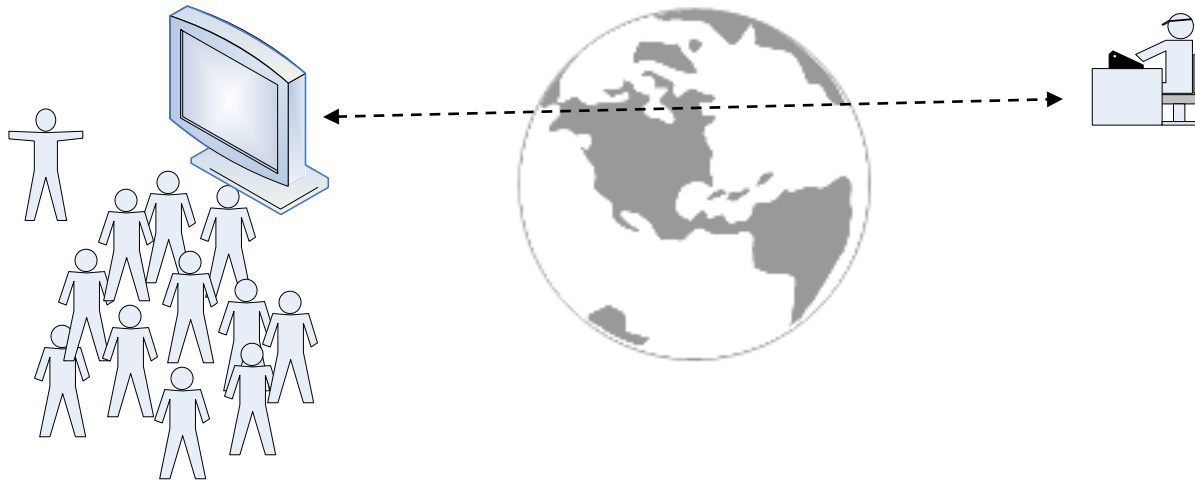

Use Cases

- Case 1: Teaching remote students

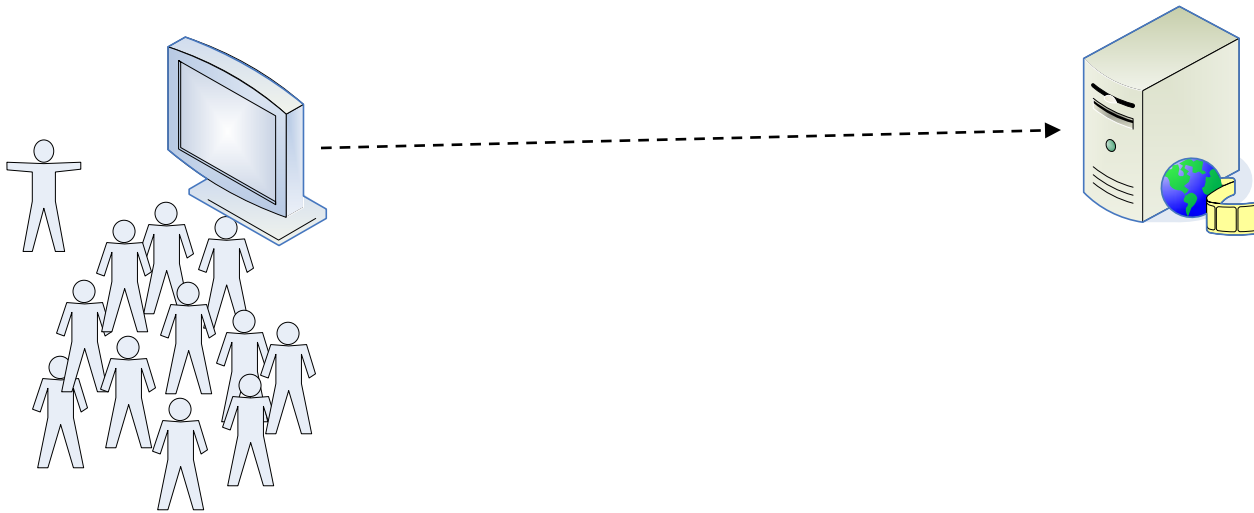

Use Cases

- Case 2: Remote guest expert lectures

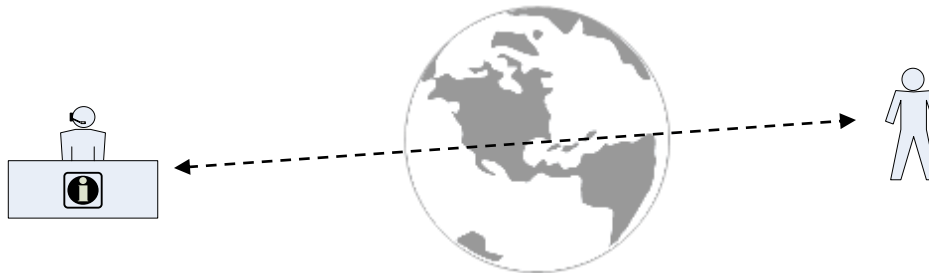

Use Cases

- Case 3: F2F session recording

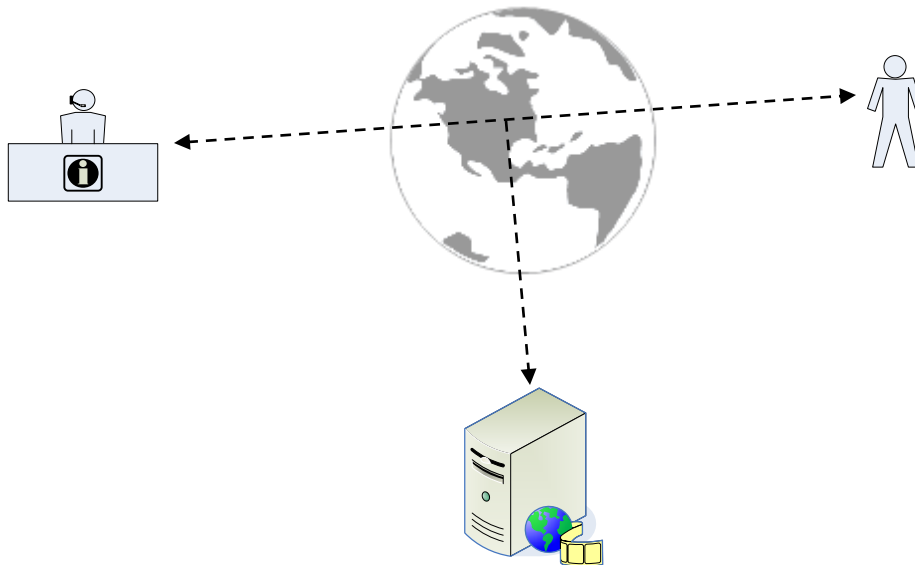

Use Cases

- Case 4: 24/7 Helpdesk / Virtual Office
(also: one-to-one training / tutorials)

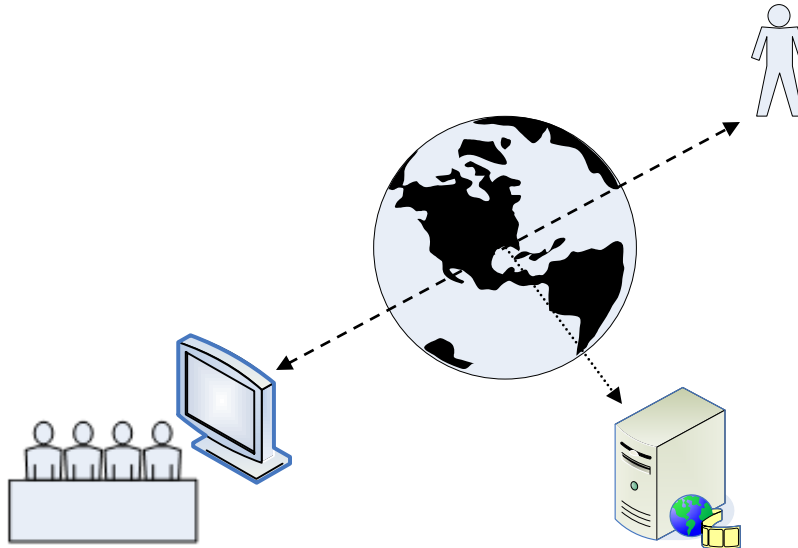

Use Cases

- Case 5: Supervision sessions
(also: assignment feedback)

- Case 6: Remote Vivas
(also: interviews, remote demonstrations)

- Case 7: Webcasts

- Case 8: Lecture / Conference Simulcasts

Use Cases

- Case 9: Multiple Venue Production

- Case 10: Group meetings and activities

Synchronous Audiographic Conferencing

Further Information:

Virtual Classrooms are currently available for staff at the University of London in the context of a research project:

www.lkl.ac.uk/research/mosaic

Leading education
and social research
Institute of Education
University of London

 londonknowledgelab

Tim Neumann
t.neumann@ioe.ac.uk
www.lkl.ac.uk/LTU